Your post of May 27 rec'd.

At present I should prefer not to receive any pieces for examination. After the Parmelee sale I will write you at what time I shall be at home and will then probably be pleased to receive such pieces as you may have, for approval.

Gents

Your package of coins duly rec'd & acknowledged by postal. I find I can select from this lot of pieces as marked by me in red ink upon your list, which I enclose, to the gross amt. of 90.75 Less 10 p.c.
$1.61 net. With regard to the 10 p.c. discount every other dealer has allowed me this amt. without special solicitation on my part, with the exception of your firm. This has always been unfortunately, a sensitive point with me. As I was well aware that you allowed 10 p.c. discount to other parties, who called themselves dealers & who have not bought & sold '20 part, that I have bought & sold. You will please note that I have included among my suggested pieces for purchase your lot 8 Immunie Columbia copper specimen. I have always regarded the price of this piece high ($30.) considering its condition & again that it bought ($9.) in the Salmagundi sale. However I have always regarded the buying & selling price as a matter ~~that~~ <sup>that</sup> concerned the owner only & not a question for outside discussion. I simply call attention to the piece & its price as it would appear to me that others may have shared with me the idea that the piece is high <sup>It not having been displayed before</sup> price. I have not however asked any discount on this piece other than that covered by the 10 off. I therefore submit my offer of $1.61 for lot. They will "be" too rich for my blood at any higher price.

I shall take no offence if the offer is not to your satisfaction. I will let them be owned by some body who has more money to burn than I have in the present depreciated state of my finances. All will continue quite friendly on my part in either event.
I enclose your list ~~with~~ prices, please return this list to me when you answer this communication, as it will assist me much in arranging the pieces for return & help me to avoid errors & omissions. With thanks for past courtesies I remain

Yours truly,
Thomas H. Coell.

Referring to our recent transaction for which I sent chke in paymt. under date of Oct. 18. Said chke duly acknowledged by you. The pieces were put aside and my attention was not called to them until about two weeks after the purchase, for the purpose of entering them in my catalogue & placing them in my cabinet. When so doing everything went smoothly with the exception of the Immune Columbian edition upon careful examination & study, I found to be a "bogus" as follows:- The reverse struck from W.
Edwards die upon a Nova Constellation (Grosby 3-B-9 1785) Note that this reverse was also coupled with the Immune found upon the silver planchet. The original Nova Constellation having been planed (ground) down to obliterate the obverse, which prevents the Immune from showing as an over-strike and rendering the planchet thinner than those of the regular issue of these patterns. The condition of the piece, viz. obverse fine reverse poor should have rendered me suspicious at least, as it also has a bearing upon the genui-ness of the piece. Regarding the reverse (the Libertas + Justitia side), the specimen shows the result of injury from the pieces before referred to of striking the obverse upon the coin, the result being to flatter the specimen. After my decision as to the character of the piece, I showed the same to my numismatic friends who happen to call & were within easy access and all agreed with me. And while I have sufficient confidence in my own opinion for my self it might not be satisfactory for others, who might prefer the opinion of some recognized and unquestionable authority. I therefore requested Mr. Crosby to call. Mr. Crosby, did not find leisure to call until last Saturday, when will account for my delay in writing you. Mr. Crosby agreed with me, without the slightest question. Everything being amicable between us & having no doubt in my own mind that you sold the piece to me in good faith as to its being a genuine issue. I have never mentioned or in any way intimated the manner of the parties from whom I purchased the coin and at present writing, we are the only parties cognizant of the fact. thinking that the mention of the transaction might lead to idle gossip which might prove an annoyance. The whole affair seems to me a Comedy or Errors.

Error No. 1 See Parmer's sale Lot. 591. Mr. Proctor describes this piece as the same as last lot, but in copper. The last lot being the silver Immune. Which the copper specimen was not. But was the same reverse, but with the Edwards die above.

Error No. 2 Messrs Chapman Bros Hasty judgement that the piece was all right.

Error No. 3 Dr. Hall's hasty & careless opinion on first examination.

At your convenient leisure I shall be pleased to hear from you in answer to this communication.

Yours truly,

Thomas Hall.

shows the regular issue. Plate X No. 26 Dr. Edwards cites. Marked differences may be seen in the figure 5; upon the regular issue this figure is vertical, while upon Dr.
Edwards it is oblique. Differences in the head are also quite evident.

Dr. Sir,

The day following our last interview I was taken suddenly ill at N. Y. Trained nurse and physician at times three times daily, and was confined in that city at a Hotel many weeks but have since rallied I am in about the same state of health as when we last met. I am however a back number and have been rebound so many times I can not reasonably expect the leaves to hold together a great while longer Mr. Randall formerly supplied me with any information I required from the mint and I miss him very much.

Entirely at your convenience and leisure, I shall be pleased to thank you for your courtesy if you will supply me with the following question regarding one A. M. Smith. at the times I used to meet him, he used to act as guide to visitors among whom he distributed his private publication on U. S. Coins, accepting I think $1. in return for his publication

Yours truly

Thomas Hall,

Enquires regarding Mr. A. M. Smith guide at the U. S. Mint

Was he ever an attaché at the mint?

If so when & in what capacity?

Is he living or dead?

If dead when did he die?

I used to meet some body by the same name

I think on Lake Street N. near Independence Hall but on the opposite side of the street.

Was it the A. M. Smith above referred to?

very trifling particulars from your it is unique, if so my specimen and all I have ever seen are unique. as I
